PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Dear Parents,
Assalam-o-Alaikum!

Sept & Oct were truly special. BASSians started with joy and laughter — we planned recreational trips where they laughed, played, bonded, and created memories that they will cherish.
Then we switched our gears. The mood became focused, serious, and dedicated. Our students went through rigorous revision and then, appeared in their Mid-Term examinations and I am confident that they will produce an excellent result.

This E-Gazette is a reflection of our joint effort. I hope you will enjoy it.

7 HABITS OF HIGHLY EFFECTIVE PEOPLE

Building Leadership Through the 7 Habits

At BASS, we are implementing Stephen R. Covey's The 7 Habits of Highly Effective People as a school-wide culture to nurture responsible, confident, and principled young leaders of the 21st century.

This initiative aims to develop positive character, self-discipline, and leadership skills while promoting moral values that align with our Islamic ethos.

Habit 1 – Be Proactive

Our first habit encourages BASSians to take responsibility for their actions, make positive choices, and take initiative on their own.

Through daily classroom practices such as morning pledges, Habit Talks, and discussions on the qualities of proactive students, our BASSians are learning to take accountability, become more disciplined, and develop a solution-oriented mindset.

These essential qualities and attributes will enlighten them on their journey towards becoming highly civilized, highly competent, and responsible citizens of tomorrow.

Habit 2 will be introduced from the next month, continuing our journey towards building effective and principled young leaders.
